

Join hands to establish a School of Nursing in Nigeria

Hi, my name is Smith Ogunyomi. I am seeking for financing, Loan/Grants/partnership or donation to execute a project of establishing a "School of Nursing" in Nigeria. The proposed name of the School is "Graceland College of Nursing". It is still in startup phase.

As the proprietor of this school, I have a sound educational background in business management and healthcare. I have a degree in business management (USA school) and a master's degree in public health (MPH) in Asia. I have excellently contributed working in the aviation industry and in the allied healthcare workforce.

The nursing school business is not only viable but will help in creating jobs for the young ones in the community, as well as closing the gaps in the shortage of healthcare workers.

Going by the current market/costing research and feasibility studies conducted, there is need for as much as $200,000 (about N250,000,000) to successfully set up a standard, top notch with one of a kind/cut edge technology nursing school business in Nigeria. Assistance can be in the form of a Loan/Grants/partnership.

!!!DONATIONS!!!:

Should you see the project a worthwhile to be part of, please don't hesitate to give me feedback? Many thanks.
